

Open International Competition to develop a planning concept for
Hunnu City, Mongolia

An international open competition for urban planning has been announced to shape the identity of Hunnu City. This development will focus on the principles of smart, green, and sustainable urban planning, integrating Mongolia's historical heritage and culture with global development trends.

Hunnu City will rise as a pivotal satellite city to the capital, Ulaanbaatar, strategically designed to foster balanced regional development and alleviate the population density in Ulaanbaatar. Our vision encompasses meticulously optimized spatial planning that serves multiple essential functions, including governance, a thriving free economic zone, an integrated transport and logistics hub, a comprehensive university complex, and a vibrant center for high-tech innovation. All of these will be developed under the guiding principles of sustainable urban planning, ensuring a harmonious and forward-thinking urban environment. Join us in crafting a visionary city that honors its roots while paving the way for a prosperous future!

Registration deadline: August 3, 2025, at 12:00 PM
