Welcome Note

Natalia Bejan

Director of Invest Moldova Agency

Dear Guest,

Welcome to Moldova Business Week 2025!

Welcome to Moldova Business Week 2025!

We are delighted to host you at Moldova Business Week 2025, an event proudly presented by the Republic of Moldova. This year's gathering is themed "Moldova is open for Business," highlighting Moldova's bold steps toward sustainable industrial growth, anchored by the National Industrial Development Program—the first initiative to introduce state-backed support for industrial investments, designed to attract and empower both local and international investors.

Each year, Moldova Business Week convenes foreign investors, local and international entrepreneurs, economic experts, representatives of state institutions, and business leaders. Our goal is to showcase Moldova's investment climate and foster valuable networking opportunities. This year's event will take place on September 15 - 19, 2025, in Chisinau and in other regions of Moldova, connecting over 1000 participants from various sectors.

Moldova Business Week 2025 will focus on Moldova's dynamic IT sector, its strategic role in Ukraine's reconstruction, and key developments in infrastructure and energy.

We look forward to welcoming you and ensuring that your experience at Moldova Business Week 2025 is enriching and enjoyable.

Soroca Fortress: Visit this 15th-century fortress on the Dniester River.

Soroca Fortress, located on the Dniester River in Soroca, Moldova, is a historic fortification dating back to the 15th century. Originally a wooden fort established by Moldavian Prince Stephen the Great in 1499, it was part of a defensive chain including forts on the Dniester and Danube. Rebuilt in stone between 1543 and 1546 under Petru Rareș, the fortress features a perfect circular design with five bastions. It played crucial roles during the Great Turkish War and the Pruth Campaign. The fortress showcases advanced medieval fortification techniques, such as curved walls and round towers for better defense. Despite its obsolescence by the late 14th century due to the advent of gunpowder, Soroca Fortress remains a significant cultural and historical attraction in Moldova.

Hâncu Monastery

Hâncu Monastery, located in a forest near the Cogilnic River, was founded in 1678 by Mihail Hancu to honor his daughter Parascheva's wish to become a nun. Originally named Viadica, the monastery's history includes a legend of Parascheva retreating to a cave to avoid marriage, prompting her father to build a church where she spent her life. The monastery was destroyed during a Tatar invasion but was rebuilt in 1784. Closed in 1949, it was reopened in 1992 and continues to function today.

Manuc Bey Castle

Manuc Bei Castle in Hîncești, Moldova, is a historical complex built in French architectural style by the descendants of Armenian diplomat Manuc Bei Mirzaian. The site features the Manuc Palace, the Bailiff's House, and a Hunting Castle. Despite damage from World War II and a 1986 earthquake, restoration efforts began in 2012. This architectural gem offers a glimpse into Moldova's rich history and picturesque surroundings.

Moldova's Gastronomy

Moldovan cuisine is distinguished by simple, fresh and natural ingredients, gathered in the tastiest local recipes, but also inherited from the people with whom we wrote our history.

Love for Moldova goes through the stomach. The warm meal always starts with homemade chicken soup (zeamă), which is said to "soothe the soul", especially after visiting the wineries. After this comes the Moldovan bread, mǎliga, which is served with meat stew or fried fish, sheep's cheese and cream. The charm of our polenta is that it bakes until it becomes hard, and is sliced with thread after it is turned out of the cauldron. Miniature or giant, depending on the region, sardines woven in fresh or pickled cabbage leaves, or vine, maple or horsetail leaves are another superstar of the local cuisine.

MĂMĂLIGĂ

Food prepared from corn flour (less often millet, buckwheat, etc.) boiled in water.

ZEAMĂ

Traditional Moldovan soup made from chicken, vegetables, homemade noodles, sour borscht and greens. It is traditionally served with hot peppers, sour cream and a slice of baked bread. The Moldovan zeama took 95th place in the ranking of 100 soups on the planet according to the Taste Atlas portal.

SARMALE

Culinary preparation of minced meat (mixed with rice and other ingredients) wrapped in cabbage, vine leaves, etc.

PLĂCINTA

In Moldova, plăcintă holds a special place in the hearts and kitchens of locals. This beloved pastry, with its origins deeply rooted in Moldovan culture, is a symbol of comfort and hospitality, often shared among family and friends during gatherings and celebrations.

Pies usually stuffed with cheese (brinza), potatoes, cabbage or apples.

Dessert

For dessert, we will start with baba, a traditional dessert, slowly baked for long hours in the wood-fired oven. Unfortunately, it is not so easy to find in restaurants, but it is worth the search.

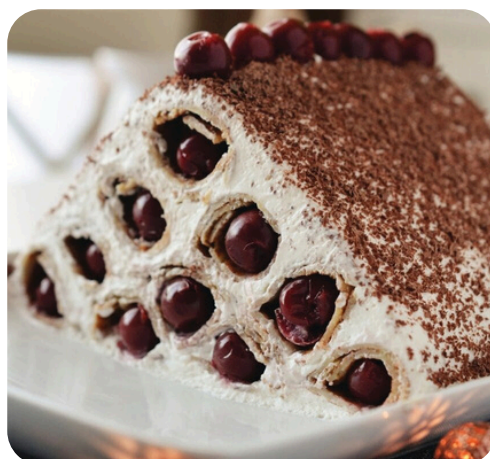

CUȘMA LUI GUGUȚĂ

A well-known Moldovan dessert that translates to "Guguță's hat". It is a sweet pastry shaped like a small hat or turban, often with a spiral design on top. This dessert is popular in Moldova and is enjoyed on various occasions, such as holidays, weddings, or family gatherings. Its unique shape and sweet flavor make it a delightful treat for those with a sweet tooth.

PRUNE CU NUCI

A traditional Moldovan dessert that translates to "prunes with walnuts." It is a simple yet delicious sweet treat that combines the rich sweetness of prunes with the crunchy texture of walnuts. To make this dessert, prunes are typically pitted and stuffed with walnuts. Sometimes, the walnuts are mixed with sugar and spices before being stuffed into the prunes to add extra flavor. The filled prunes are then often rolled in sugar or cocoa powder for a sweet finish.
